The complainant reports that on the listed date and time she received a phone call from a phone number with a Washington D.C. area code. The caller claimed to be a senior officer with the Federal Trade Commission by the name of Alvaro Beboya, with an employee I.D. number of GS06217. The caller told the complainant that she had two outstanding warrants, one for money laundering, and another for Violation of Identity Theft. The caller further said that if she did not pay a thirty thousand dollar bond she would be arrested. When the complainant stated that she needed to check with her local police department the caller stated that she could not tell anyone about the warrants or she would be arrested. The complainant realized that what the caller was telling her did not make sense and told him she would leave for the bank and withdraw the money. When she hung up with him she came to the police department to report the incident.
